KCNA Commentary Censures U.S. Senator's Anti-DPRK Remarks

Pyongyang, September 5 (KCNA) -- Some time ago, Ted Cruz, senator of the U.S., dared to slander the dignity of the supreme leadership of the DPRK.

His mud-slinging is a politically-motivated provocation to the DPRK as it represented the perspective of the conservative lawmakers on the DPRK, not just his own personal view.

His remarks made at an acute time when the DPRK-U.S. dialogue is in a stalemate and nobody is sure whether the situation will keep going on the path of detente or go back to the origin of confrontation are, indeed, very dangerous ones just like adding fuel to the flames.

As a descendent of a renegade who fled his motherland Cuba, Cruz took the lead in branding the former U.S. administration's plan to recover the relations with Cuba as a "tragic mistake". When a resolution demanding the lift of the U.S. blockade against Cuba passed the UN General Assembly session by an overwhelming majority in October 2016, the human scum asserted that the policy on sanctions on Cuba must remain a must policy and law of the U.S.

When he was competing for the presidency on the Republican ticket in 2016, he spouted the rhetoric that the nuclear pact with Iran dramatically damages the interests of the U.S. and that if he becomes president, he would immediately mount a military attack on Iran, only to be called a war maniac.

When there occurred a terrorist attack in Brussels, Belgium in March 2016, he called for immediately stopping the plan of receiving evacuees from Syria, while treating Muslims as "criminals" and also called for tightening patrol and guard in the Islamic settlements, only to be branded as a radical racist in the U.S. political circle.

No wonder, heavyweight lawmakers from the Republican Party contended if he becomes a presidential candidate from the Republican Party, it will be a big disaster.

He, therefore, has become notorious not only in the U.S. but even in the Republican Party as "an ultra-rightist detested by everyone", "a liar" and "a demon in human shape".

His behavior is sure to make everyone take him as a remnant of Nazis with extreme misanthropy or a hysteric psychopath bereft of reason.

We will never pardon whoever provokes the dignity of the supreme leadership of our country but will make those pay dearly for what they have done by all means. -0-

KCNA Commentary Censures S. Korean Conservative Group's Pro-Japanese Acts

Pyongyang, September 5 (KCNA) -- The pro-Japanese nature of the south Korean conservative groups was more clearly revealed by its attitude towards the "government's" decision to cancel the general security of military intelligence agreement (GSOMIA) with Japan.

As soon as the decision was made public, the conservative group including the "Liberal Korea Party" strongly opposed it, branding it as "a gambling which compromises the alliance with Japan", "a self-wrong which jolts the axis for national security" and "a thoughtless and emotional countermeasure".

The destruction of GSOMIA is very reasonable as it is a representation of the south Korean people who came out in resistance to Japan, being unable to repress their indignation at Japan's impudent moves to evade the reparation for its past crimes and cripple the south Korean economy.

This being a fact, the conservative group, failing to make a protest against Japan, the sworn enemy of the Korean nation, is calling upon the "government" to cancel the rightful decision while siding with the enemy. Their reckless act clearly shows their foul nature as the group of pro-Japanese traitors.

What matters is that the opposition by the conservative group to the decision did not just stem from its feelings of sycophancy.

Lurking behind this is its black-hearted intention to realize the ambition to seize power by justifying the pro-Japanese crimes committed by traitor Park Geun Hye who concluded the GSOMIA with the guys of the island nation, and by kowtowing to foreign forces.

The GSOMIA started by traitor Lee Myung Bak and concluded at the end of the Park Geun Hye's regime is a collective work done by the treacherous and conservative regime and the most typical evil in the fields of diplomacy and security.

It is as clear as noonday that more open public discussion of the reactionary nature of the agreement and stronger public demand for its cancellation will prompt greater opposition to and criticism of the conservative group, the ringleader of the fabrication of the treacherous agreement, at home and abroad and they would cast a dark shadow over the attempts of the conservatives to come into power.

In a word, the cancellation of the GSOMIA is a "bad luck" for the conservative forces working hard to ify the success registered by the candlelight demonstrators and seize power at any cost.

Hwang Kyo An who worked as "prime minister" when Park Geun Hye concluded the agreement terms the authorities' decision "one for internal politics" and "insult to the people" while linking it with an irrelevant matter. This is no more than a cunning trick to appease the public criticism getting stronger as the days go by.

It is very natural that the south Korean people label the conservative group as the "bastard of politics", "Japanese pirates in south Korea" and "those parasitic on Abe".

All strata of south Korean society should never pardon the conservative group of traitors who are making desperate efforts to realize their dirty ambition for power even by selling the dignity and interests of the nation to malicious Japan. -0-
